VICTORY CLOSES SEASON

Smethport Had a Good Line-Up Last Sunday and Walked Away With Jewett.

Smethport's baseball season came to a close last Sunday afternoon with a 13-3 victory over Mt. Jewett. Two hours and fifteen minutes were used up in the desultory contest in which the local team clearly outclassed their neighbors from the hill top. Chief interest for the crowd lay in the appearance in the local lineup of Herb Moran, who recently piloted the Elcos through a successful season and who formerly was a national figure in the sport with the Chicago Cubs.

It may be true that Herb is too slow now for the big leagues, but he surely gave a classy exhibition here. At bat his best performance came in the seventh inning when he hit a two-bagger to left, stole third, and immediately afterward stole home. His slide which scored the run was a beautiful piece of work; watching his chance when the Jewett catcher lobbed the ball back to the pitcher, Moran tore home. The ball held him to the plate by fully five feet, but so perfectly was his hook-slide executed that the catcher was unable to tag him out.

In center field Moran showed up wonderfully. Particularly brilliant was his playing in the sixth. V. Clark drove a long fly into deep center that looked like a sure double; by some fast foot-work Moran got under it and then pegged perfectly to third, catching Nelson who had come down from second. It was all done so easily and quickly as to seem quite the natural thing. In the ninth he changed places with Paul Moran at short where he had one chance.

Whether it was due to the presence of good example or to the fact that they were playing their last game of the year the Smethport team showed a return to the form that characterized their earlier games of the summer. There was a noteworthy absence of bad errors and they refused to let the fatal seventh bother them a bit.

Robert Hull pitched an excellent game. In four innings but three men faced him and he was never in real danger after the first two innings when good support saved him. He allowed but three men to walk, although it required the steadiest of control several times to get out of passing a man who already had three balls to his credit.

ABBEY—HEATH.

On Wednesday at 12 o'clock, Miss Clytie A. Abbey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Abbey, and Frank E. Heath of Corry, Pa., were quietly married at the home of the bride on Bank street. The Rev. Edmonds of Crosby, Pa., officiating. There were no attendants. The bride is one of Smethport's most popular young ladies, and the groom is a well known business man of Corry.

After an extended motor trip to the Thousand Islands they will be at their home in Corry.

The MINER unites with their hosts of friends in extending to them congratulations and best wishes for a happy married life.

Joseph Hull Loses Part of His Right Leg

Last Thursday afternoon, Joseph Hull of this place who nearly a month has been a patient at a Rochester, N. Y., hospital, under the care of Dr. Williams, had his right leg amputated just above the knee. The operation, which was satisfactory in every way, was performed by Dr. Bascon.

Last reports stated that Mr. Hull had stood the ordeal of the operation in a fine way and was improving as rapidly as could be expected. Mrs. Hull and sons, Harry, Charles, Norman and Robert were in Rochester at the time.

At least three weeks prior to his departure for Rochester, Mr. Hull had been suffering considerably with his foot. His case was diagnosed as sugar of diabetes and it was recommended that he enter the Rochester hospital. Following this advice Mr. Hull went to Rochester on September 6, and put himself under the care of Dr. Williams.

Sugar had already began to form in the blood, but treatments had reduced this to normal when gangrene set in his foot. At first it was thought that part of the loweer leg could be saved, but acting on the request of Mr. Hull himself, the surgeon decided on a bigger amputation in order to prevent the necessity of a second operation.

Mr. Hull will remain at the Rochester hospital until it is certain that there will be no return of the gangrene. He will therefore hardly be back in Smethport under six weeks.

BIG YIELDS ON FARMS

Prize Potatoes Raised by M. S. Comes, Marvin Creek Road On Exhibition at the Farm Bureau Office.

Some unusual yields are being recorded this year on several Keating township farms. Favorable weather conditions, more extensive fertilizing, and more careful cultivation are given as the reasons.

E. D. Comes on his two farms on the Norwich road has had wonderful success with his cereals. From 16 acres he has harvested 1132 bushels of oats, an average of better than 70 bushels to the acre. When it is considerer that 35 bushels is a very fair average yield, the excellence of this showing may be apreciated.

A number of other farmers in the same section report average yields this year of oats better than 60 bushels to the acre, a fact which would indicate that this is a real oats year. Mr. Comes likewise had good luck with wheat, reaping 96 bushels to a sowing of three and a half acres.

Potatoes from the standpoint of both quantity and quality, are also unusual this year. C. O. Taylor, on the county farm planted 9 1-2 bushels of seed potatoe and dug 175 bushels of the finest that he ever saw, a yield of about 18 bushels to each bushel planted.

Specimens of the potatoes raised by M. S. Comes on the Marvin Creek road are on exhibition in the Farm Bureau office. Three of the potatoes weigh between two pounds and two pounds seven ounces. As to quantity, Mr. Comes dug 340 bushels to the acre.

We have reprinted these records to find out just how good they are in comparison with the work of other farmers of this section. If you can report something equally as good or better in these or other crops we will be glad to hear from you. We are growing a little tired of hearing certain individuals say that the only possible crop from McKean County ground is rocks and weeds.

PENN. STATE POLICE DOING GREAT WORK

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 28.—The Pennsylvania State Police made 879 arrests and recovered $45,690 worth of stolen property during August, according to figures made public by Major Lynn G. Adams, the superintendent.

Stolen motor cars valued at $20,818 were recovered, and other property estimated at $15,372 was restored to persons from whom it was stolen. For violations of automobile laws, 342 persons were picked up by the State troopers.

Recently the State Police captured two automobile thieves in a manner that clearly indicates the value of having troopers mounted on motorcycles. Within half an hour after Troop B, at Wyoming, was notified of a motor car theft at Scranton, two troopers on motorcycles trailed the stolen car toward Wilkes-Barre and arrested Thomas Evans and Griff Howell, both of Scranton, who were in the automobile. The police traveled about 14 miles and had the stolen motor car returned to the owner in less than thirty minutes.

Miscellaneous arests last month numbered 431. Some of the more serious offenses for which arrests were made were, arson, 3; murder, 5; larceny and robbery, 85, and game and fish violations, 5.

Smethport Boys Were Defeated Last Saturday

Local Boys Were Trimmed by Bradford in the First Game of Season—Portville Next.

The local high school football team opened its season Saturday in Bradford against the aggregation representing the high school of that place. Though defeated by a score of 19-6, the Smethoprt boys fully vindicated the word of those who have watched them in practice by proving themselves a hard-fighting, plucky bunch.

Taken from every standpoint except, of course, the loss of the game, the showing of the boys was a delight to the numerous Smethport people who witnessed their play. With the exception of the first quarter a and few minutes of the second, they outplayed their opponents and only a little hard luck on two occasions prevented further scoring.

Smethport's six points came in the third quarter when Allison intercepted a low forward pass over center and made a beautiful 40-yard run straight through the whole Bradford team.

Bradford scored during the first four minutes of play in the first quarter and were well on toward the second touch-down at the end of that quarter, finally shoving the ball over in the first three minutes of play in the second period. They did not score again until the last quarter when they won the ball on Smethport's forward line by the recovery of a fumble. The Smethport boys buckled down to work and stiffen Bradford to use all their foot downs to score.

The game, which was faultlessly referred by Dr Livermore, was fine in every way. Both teams showed some lack of training, particularly Bradford who had to send in three substitutes, but they were well matched and went at each other like bull dogs. The local boys are loud in their praise of their opponents' sportsmanship in the game and the courteous treatment accorded them throughout their stay in Bradford.

Allison undoubtedly starred for Smethport both the individual playing and his managing of the team on the field as quarterback and acting captain, were of real excellence. The line as a whole put up a stone-wall type of play that made advance for the Bradford boys practically impossible except by end-runs and forward passes.

The boys are practicing hard this week with the prospect of a game here Saturday with the Portville, N. Y., high school team, this being the first home game of the year. The squad will be augmented this week by the return of two of last year's men, and the team should profit considerably thereby. The following was the line-up in Saturday's game with Bradford, and it will probably not be altered much to meet Portville.

REV. GREGSON WILL ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Mr. Gregson has been held up several times in his attempts to return to the states by changes in the sailing dates of steamers. He had fully expected to be here more than two weeks ago and would have been had it not been for the difficulty steamship companies are having in trying to get their boats off on schedule dates.

$23,000,000 PAID TO PERSONS INJURED

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 29.—More than $23,000,000 has been paid to persons injured and relatives of those killed in industrial acicdents in Pennsylvania during the last four years, according to figures made public today by Dr. Clifford B. Conneller, Commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry. During that period the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation has had reports of 936,838 industrial accidents, of which 13,477 resulted fatally.

So far this year, the bureau has paid compensation claims aggregating $4,592,718 for deaths and injuries suffered in the industries of this state. About $1,500,000 of that amount was compensation for fatalities.

In the first eight months of 1290, 1,763 fatal accidents have occurred in Pennsylvania plants, and there have been 115,954 accidents of all sorts in the establishments.

Since January 1, there have been 456 eyes lost, 47 arms, 201 hands, 68 legs and 32 feet. Twenty-one workers were totally disabled by having backs broken, heads injured so that insanity resulted, or bodies mutilated so that they were unable to resume work. There has been $1,430,127 awarded to persons who suffered injuries of this type.

Excellent Progress On Roads

The Warren-Moore Construction Company are Making Great Progress for the Past Few Days.

The Warren-Moore Construction Co. which is in charge of the road from the lower end of Main street, through to Rew Hill, has been able to get in some good work during the past two weeks. After numerous vain attempts to get cement, a large shipment arrived and permitted them to start laying the concrete surface. Since then this material has been arriving consistently.

The concrete has been laid over the old "dug road" to the foot of the hill this side of the Andrew Campbell place, and this stretch of road has been opened to traffic with the result that most automobiles are taking that route to Bradford, going by way of Hordell.

The comapny is now working from the Herzog Corners school house toward Farmers Valley and has between a quarter and a half mile laid. On last Thursday 288 feet were laid, which is the record on that part of progress, though not quite so good as the Thursday's work was made Friday and Saturday also.

The State Deaprtment seems to be having its trouble with the contractor for the road between Mt. Jewett and Kanehoim. Earlier this summer it was expected that this road would be quickly completed and would be open to the public for some of the warmer months. Lately, however, the work has been dragging to such an extent that some began to doubt the sincerity of the contractor's attempt to finish up his work as soon as he might.

Last week a Kane resident called Commissioner Sadler at Harrisburg on the long distance telephone and entered complaint so forcibly that word was at once sent to the contractor ordering him to push his work as rapidly as possible. It is to be hoped that this will serve as the necessary stimulus for immediate action so that it will not be the fate of the traveller to use the long detour to Kane all this winter.

36 Per Spur.

Inspection of the records discloses that the War Department bought enough spur straps to supply 36 sets to each officer. The excess was probably for the swivel chair officers who wore out the strap where their boots rubbed against the edges of the desk.

The White House Sector.

A party of tourists wishing to enter the White House grounds recently, encountered a burly policeman who said: "Well, you can't get in here. Don't you know we are still at war? The Senate has never ratified the treaty of peace." We have Wilson's word for it that he has fighting blood in his veins. Is it possible that Cromwellian old covenanter fears a German attack because he kept us out of peace?

Up With Maine.

The Maine election foretold a Republican victory in November and immediately liberty bonds took an upward turn in the market. There is nothing more sensitive than the dollar and there is nothing that has more effect upon the market value of government securities than the character of administration the government is likely to have. It may take some time, but the Republicans will bring liberty bonds back to par.

Cox and His "Dud."

Gov. Cox has shot his bolt. The stir created by his cries of fraud against the Republican campaign managers reached its peak and collapsed when not a scintilla of evidence was forthcoming upon demand for its production. Hereafter whatever the Democratic candidate does or says will come as an anti-climax. The voters have taken his measure and assigned him a place in their estimations which he cannot escape.

A Double Celebration

On November 11 America will celebrate the second anniversary of the signing of the armistice—the end of two years of peace in which President Wilson refused to permit the United States to participate unless this nation consented to surrender to a superstate dominated by Europe. The anniversary will fall nine days after the election—ample time for all the returns to be in, showing the rebuke the American people have administered to the great obsecutionist.

Bureaucracy vs. Economy Laws.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Once more we have demonstration of the efficacy of the law of supply and demand as a price-controller, and its superiority over the government regulation advocated by the Democratic administration, says the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued today by the President of that organization, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr.

"Exasperated by increased prices in fashionable Boston restaurants prominent business men agreed to discontinue their daily noon-day gathering around the luncheon tables, and the telephone operators, stenographers and shop girls have organized a 'bring-your-lunch-from-home' movement. The diminished demand for restaurant lunches will inevitably bring the prices to a reasonable level.

"Government regulation, through the Department of Justice, gave the first big boost to the price of sugar, and all the later efforts of the Attorney General to bring down the price were of no avail. Only when the supply was more than adequate and holders found themselves with a surplus, did the price decline. It was the same with prices of shoes and of clothing. By having old shoes half-soled, and by wearing clothing a few months longer, the people of the country reduced the demand and caused a reduction in prices.

"Autocratic price fixing has always been, is now, and always will be a failure. If pries are arbitrarily fixed too low, production will be diminished, and the consequent scarcity will force a raising of the figures at which the commodities may be sold. Prices that are too high in a free market furnish their own regulation; for the large profits invite keen competition which brings reduction.

"Government price-fixing can be defended in only one class of business—that which enjoys a monopoly by virtue of government authority. Railroads enjoy special powers under the public laws of the states and, in the nature of their business, enjoy a practical monopoly in the territory they serve. Ruinous rate-cutting on the one hand, or extortionate charges on the other, are evils opopsed to public policy, and in such a case government interferences is fully justified.

"Profitering is an evil which cannot be overcome by runeracy. No man was ever wise enough to fix prices for all kinds of commodities without doing injustice to the producer on the one hand or the consumer on the other. General laws for the punishment of profiteering, after trial and conviction before a jury, may be of some aid in controlling unconscionable prices, but in the main the effetive remedy is that adopted by the Boston restaurant patrons—to quit buying where the prices are deemed excessive."

second and all proved their worth both in fielding and in run-getting. It is unfortunate that this trio was not added to the Smethport line-up earlier in the season when game after game showed weakness in these positions. Herb Moran was particularly taken with McKenna's playing in left and promised him big things if he is careful.

Just as we were going to press the Manager of the Smethoprt baseball club informed this office that they were compelled to have a real battle next Sunday as Rixford thought they could shut out Smethport in a real baseball game.

Now fans if you want to see some fun and excitement come out next Sunday. Smethoprt is going to have a real line-up, including Herb Moran and several other stars. The price of admission will be 50 cents.

LARGER CAPACITY OF ROADS

Must Be Doubled to Meet Augmenting Requirements of Transportation Next Year.

We are confronted with the problem of increasing the capacity of our highways. This must be doubled to meet the augmenting requirements of the next year or two. Engineers are wondering along what line this increase shall be provided. One suggestion is to double the width of the roads and increase first cost and maintenance 100 per cent. The most reasonable one is to provide a road of sufficient strength to carry vehicles of 100 per cent greater capacity for a given width of road, as the first cost of these strengthened roads would be only 10 to 20 per cent greater per mile than that of present inadequate highways, says a writer in an exchange. In view of the fact that 50 per cent increase in hauling capacity gives a reduction of 15 per cent in transportation costs, the latter seems the wisest thing to do.

ATTENTION TO EARTH ROADS

Clean Out Ditches and True Up Crown by Use of Light Grader—Four Horses Needed.

The majority of earth roads have been previously graded and it is necessary to clean out the ditches and true up the crown of the road by the use of the light grader two or three times a season. This work requires four horses.

Haul With Less Cost.

Not only can a greater quantity of products be hauled to market with less horse power on better highways, but there also will be a greater saving of wear and tear on the vehicles which carry the goods.
